ADVANTAGES

DISADVANTAGES

TOURISM

- Tourism is the act of travel for the purpose of recreation. It might occupy local services such as entertainment, accommodation and catering for tourists. Tourism may bring not only benefits, but also disadvantages

- Firstly, many countries depend heavily upon travel expenditures by foreigners as a source of taxation and as a source of income for the enterprises. Therefore, the development of tourism is often a strategy to promote a particular region for the purpose of increasing commerce through exporting goods and services

- Secondly, it provides direct employment for the people associated with occupations in bars and hotels. Thanks to it, the average standard of living increases while at the same time unemployment is on a decrease.

- However, tourists cause environmental damage through forest fires, destruction of sand dunes and pollution. This serves negatively as increased pollution disturbs local residents and also it may discourage tourists from further entering the country.

After this, tourism undermines culture by commercializing it and tourists do not always respect traditional cultures. This is often connected with increasing litter, graffiti, vandalism and noise.

In general, tourism is an extremely profitable process in loads of countries, especially those in which the process of development continues to depend on this industry because it does not require a lot of literacy and also it yields maximum profits with less investment.
